Miss Me, Let Me Go

When I come to the end of the road,
The sun has set for me.
Miss me, but let me go.
Why cry for a soul set free ?
Miss me a little but not for long,
And not with your head bowed low.
Remember the love we once shared,
Miss me a little, but let me go.
For this is a journey we all must take,
And each must go alone.
It is all a part of the master plan,
A step on the road to home.
When you are lonely and sick of heart,
Go to the friends we know,
And bury your sorrows in doing good deeds,
Miss me, but let me go!

“ Carla and I were such close friends when we attended Orange Beach Presbyterian Church years ago. We stood together in the choir and enjoyed our friendship so much. Her children and grandchild were like my family, also. She will be missed by so many but we all know that she is at peace now. I have a stained glass placket that she gave me one Christmas that has hung in the bathroom ever since we moved to Elberta. I would say a little prayer for her daily and I would see her beautiful face in my memories. My prayers and thoughts will be with the family at this time. Steve Walker
