*John, you're one of my damn good friends, my brother for life. my God is taking you away from this bad place so you could be in a better place. I love you my brother.
I send out to John's family my deepest condolences. Let's all just go and celebrate to a wonderful life that John had. A good friend.
And when I say celebrate I don't mean go out there getting drunk and drinking and all this other stuff. I mean reminiscing on the good times and being happy I'm feeling good to know that she had met somebody and knew somebody that was really truly a real person*
