Laura Aaron Mixon, 41, of Bay Minette/Loxley/Gulf Shores, Alabama, passed away on April 28, 2024.

Laura was born on March 29, 1983, to Stan and Diane Aaron in Bay Minette, Alabama. After Laura graduated from Baldwin County High School in 2001, she went on to study music education at Faulkner State Community College and Troy State University.

After graduating with a bachelor's degree in Music Education (followed later with a graduate degree), she started her first teaching job at Baldwin County High School as the choir director, beginning a sixteen-year teaching career. Her career included tenures at Troy University as a Lecturer of Music, and Daphne High School and Gulf Shores Middle and High Schools as the Choir Director.

Throughout her professional career, Laura served as Music Leader for Elba United Methodist Church, South Luverne Baptist Church, Troy First United Methodist Church, Foley Presbyterian Church, and Gulf Shores Methodist Church.

In 2008, Laura met William at the Alabama Music Educators Conference. Laura and William went on to have two children, Liam (10) and Ansley (6).

For the vast majority of her life, Laura spent time singing, playing piano, teaching young people, and loving her family. Her influence is felt far and wide through the impact she made on countless students throughout Alabama.

As her family and community grieves the loss of a beautiful woman, they find comfort in knowing the world is a better place because she was in it.

“ Mrs. Mixon was a lovely person and a wonderful teacher. My daughter was in the choir with her, and Mrs. Mixon gave her a solo at the Christmas concert even though she was only a freshman. That was an enormous confidence booster and, I am sure, has helped her as she has been pursuing a professional career as a singer-songwriter. May Mrs. Mixon rest in peace.

“ I cannot begin to express how much she meant to me and all that she taught me. She had the most beautiful voice and energy. She made me feel safe and understood. She introduced me to an amazing composer, Moses Hogan, whose music we performed during my last few years at Gulf Shores High School. I am so thankful for the inspiration and guidance she provided for me. Her talent and beauty is beyond compare. I know that she is with all of her students when we need her. I will always love her and will do my best for her. I know that she is being taken care of now.

“ I think of her everyday. I was going through some hardships and she took me under her wing. She let me eat in her classroom everyday for lunch because that's where I felt safe. She was my safe place. She was such a beautiful person inside and out. She is the reason I pushed hard then and why I push harder now. Thank you for everything ❤️

“ I was in her choir class my sophomore year. I have never, and will never, have that kind of a bond with a teacher again. She was like a mother to me. I think about her every day. When I was in her class, I would keep every piece of advice, correction, or complement close to my heart. Although I can't remember many of those now, I know that they're apart of who I am. I remember going to state assessments and being so anxious I started having a panic attack during my performance in front of the judge. She immediately stopped playing the piano, walked over to me (which she was not allowed to do), and comforted me. I remember sobbing while she was holding me, and thinking to myself how I wouldn't be able to finish. She'd managed to calm me down, and convince me to finish my performance. That moment means a lot to me now, and always will. She always will. I have lots of regrets and wishes, but I know the good experiences/memories will over take those. I will always treasure the time I had with her. My love goes out to Mr. Mixon, Ansley, and Liam. There will never be anyone like her.
