“ Time is passing on and I think of Mark often. He and I spoke almost every week, as old friends often do, about gardening, politics, football, the beach and our families. I didn't know this at the time but Mark was a rock for me and my life. We knew each other since birth, played together as toddlers, teens, and ended by growing up throughout our life as friends. He was a great friend. As I began this, I think of Mark often...when I find a moment to sit and contemplate, I feel the void of his passing. It's there, its real. Miss his friendship.

“ Pawpaw Mark was one of the strongest wisest men I knew. He always knew what to say no matter the situation. He had the best stories, and words of encouragement. He loved his family so much and he was so excited when he heard I was pregnant with Sophia. I loved to watch his face light up every time we would come to visit. I'll show her pictures of you and tell her stories of you, and remind her how much her great pawpaw loved her so. Please watch over her for me. I love you so very much. Roll Tide 🙏❤️
