“ Aunt Virginia was a very loving and caring person. She was a great cook, an accomplished seamstress, and a dedicated Christian woman. One year when I was in college Aunt Virginia made Easter dresses for her daughters and "just happened to" have enough fabric left over to sew a special dress for me, too. A few years later, when I was a young wife trying to make a graduate school apartment into a home, Aunt Virginia sent us a shower curtain. She said that she bought it for her house then decided it was not what she wanted. But the shower curtain was my favorite colors, the perfect match for our decor. I always wondered if Aunt Virginia actually purchased it for me. Four decades later, that cheerful yellow shower curtain with orange butterflies still spends time brightening our bathroom every summer. Thanks, dear Aunt! You were a blessing.

Love,
